NW Cherry Festival 40th Anniversary Celebration

April 26, 2019 - April 28, 2019

“Follow The Cherry Brick Road”
Head to The Dalles for the 40th Annual Northwest Cherry Festival. A longtime favorite among locals and visitors alike, the festival is set in the spectacular Columbia River Gorge and showcases The Dalles’ deep agricultural heritage and Western roots. The Cherry Festival in 2015 expanded to three days of family-friendly activities and events, and 2019 is going to be even better! The Northwest Cherry Festival takes place in downtown The Dalles from Friday, April 26 through Sunday, April 28, 2019. The Festival includes the Gorge’s largest parade, classic car show, a 10k race, and lots of great local music and bands. There’s also cherry sampling with the Oregon Cherry Growers, craft vendors, agriculture job fair, Cherry Idol, and Carnival. You don’t want to miss the crowning of Cherry Festival Royalty at Mid-Columbia Senior Center’s Breakfast Saturday Morning before the parade! The Dalles has much more to offer though the festival alone could keep you busy.

Book Report

By Judy Bane
"The Rule of Law"

by John Lescroart

John Lescroart - the "master of the legal thriller" (Chicago Sun-Times) - is back in action, marshaling his witty dialogue and airtight plotting in this electrifying thriller featuring attorney Dismas Hardy as he grapples with his longtime trusted assistant being charged as an accessory to murder.

Dismas Hardy knows something is amiss with his trusted secretary, Phyllis. Always reliable and consistent, she's been behaving out of character and disappearing without notice. Dismas becomes even more concerned when he discovers Phyllis has been reluctantly playing host to her convict brother, a man just released from San Quentin after serving a 25-year sentence for armed robbery and attempted murder.

Things take a shocking turn with Phyllis is suddenly arrested at work, accused of being an accessory to the murder of Hector Valdez, a coyote who'd been smuggling women into the country from El Salvador and Mexico. That is, until recently, when he was shot to death - on the very same day Phyllis started disappearing from work. The connection between Phyllis, her brother, and Hector's murder is not something Dismas can easily understand, but if his treasured colleague has any chance of going free, he needs to put all the pieces together - and fast.

As "one of the best thriller writers to come down the pike" (USA Today), John Lescroart crafts yet another whip-smart and rousing novel filled with shocking twists and turns that will keep you guessing until the very end.

One of my favorite authors, John Lescroart writes fast paced, witty legal thrillers that I anxiously wait to read. This is his latest Dismas Hardy story and I highly recommend you read the others. A highly entertaining read!

Community Council Corner

By Caleb Hotchkiss

Report for the March, 14th, 2019 Dallesport-Murdock Council Meeting

The Dallesport-Murdock Community Council discussed a Notice of Subdivision Application and Mitigated Determination on Non-Significance for the Yakima Nation Housing Authority (YNHA) Wishxum Village Subdivision, the status of the development and the public comment opportunity on March 22nd to the Klickitat County Planning Commission in Goldendale. The community members in attendance mentioned the wildlife observed recently in the area slated for development. YNHA, Executive Director Kelly Coons will address the Council at the April meeting.

A few other topics were briefly discussed including a long-pending potential golf course development, water metering of lots and the benefits of smart water meters, transfer of maintenance responsibilities from the airport to the county, transfer of water rights from the airport to the Dallesport Water District, Lyle School District funding challenges after the McCleary Act, Washington SB 5382 related to tiny houses, ordinance violations on Cypress Street, and the status of the new gun range – expected to open this spring.

The next meeting of the Dallesport-Murdock Community Council is April 11th, 7:00 PM, at the Community Center on 6th Ave. The speaker will be the Yakima Nation Housing Authority, Executive Director Kelly Coons. The May meeting speaker will be Marty Hudson from Klickitat County weed control.

Protect Your Property from Wildfire

1. Maintain Defensible Space (0–5 feet) Use noncombustible materials such as gravel, brick, or concrete in this critical area adjacent to your home.

2. Reduce Siding Risks: Maintain 6-inch ground-to-siding clearance, and consider noncombustible siding.

3. Clean Debris from Roof: Regularly remove debris ^L from your roof, since debris can be ^L ignited by wind-blown ^L embers.

4. Use a Class A Roof Covering:

Class A fire-rated roofing products offer the best protection for homes.

5. Clean Out Gutters Regularly

Keep debris out of gutters since debris can be ignited by wind-blown embers. If used, gutter covers should be noncombustible.

6. Reduce Fence Risks: Burning fencing can generate ^L embers and cause direct flame contact to your home. Use noncombustible fences and gates.

7. Keep Embers out of Eaves & Vents

Use 1/8-inch mesh to cover vents, and box-in open eaves to create a soffited eave.

8. Protect Windows: Use multi-pane, tempered glass windows, and close them when a wildfire threatens.

9. Reduce Deck Risks:

At a minimum, use deck boards that comply with California requirements for new construction in wildfire-prone areas, remove combustibles under deck, and maintain effective defensible space.

10. Maintain Defensible Space (5–30 feet): Remove shrubs under trees, prune branches that overhang your roof, thin trees, and remove dead vegetation. Move trailers/RVs and storage sheds from area, or build defensible space around these items.

Creating Defensible Space

Introduce more native vegetation.

Space trees at least 10 feet apart.

Remove dead or dying trees and shrubs.

Keep trees and shrubs pruned. ...

Mow your lawn regularly and dispose promptly of cuttings and debris.

Maintain your irrigation system.

Clear your roof, gutters and eaves of debris.

Trim branches so they do not extend over roof or near the chimney.

Move firewood and storage tanks 50 feet away from home and clear areas at least 10 feet around them.

Store flammable liquids in approved metal safety cans.

Do not connect wooden fencing directly to your home.

Keep the grounds around your home free of pine needles.

New Solar Project Set For Bickleton

Washington State Commissioner of Public Lands Hilary Franz last Wednesday announced the first lease of state trust lands for solar power. The Washington State Department of Natural Resources is entering into an agreement with Avangrid Renewables to lease 480 acres of state trust lands in Klickitat County (near Bickleton) as part of a 150-megawatt solar power project.

The project will not only generate clean energy, but it will also generate more than $120,000 per year in new revenue for schools across the state.

"Solar power is a win-win-win for the people of Washington," said Franz, the elected official who oversees DNR. "It generates significant revenue for our schools while creating jobs and providing clean, affordable energy to our homes and businesses."

DNR already has an expansive clean-energy wind program. Each year, wind turbines on state trust land generate 200 megawatts of power and raise $1.2 million for school construction and public services.

"Our goal is to produce 500 megawatts of solar power on public lands by 2025," Franz says. "The clean energy we generate reduces pollution and builds energy independence in our communities. And it also creates family-wage jobs in parts of our state that need them the most."

DNR's lease with Portland-based Avangrid is for 40 years. The company anticipates it will begin operations in late 2020.

"Executing the first solar power lease on state lands for a project like this is an exciting development for us as we work to expand solar energy in the Northwest," said Avangrid Renewables' Vice President for Business Development Jesse Gronner. "We still have a lot of work to do to push this project forward, but we think it's a great site for a solar project, and we thank Commissioner Franz and her staff for working with us."

The land near Bickleton is currently being used as grazing land for cattle. Grazing payments on this land generate $2 per acre yearly. Avangrid will be leasing the land for $300 an acre. Revenue from the use of this land goes to the Common School Trust, used for school construction across Washington state.

"State-managed lands have generated more than $1.5 billion for public services over the past two decades, but we are always looking for ways to meet new Market demands and increase benefits for Washingtonians," said Commissioner Franz. "Solar power helps us take full advantage of the economic and ecological potential of our public lands."

DNR manages nearly 6 million acres of public forest, rangeland, tidelands, and commercial properties across Washington.

The Klickitat County solar project is part of Franz's Rural Communities Partnership Initiative (RCPI), an ongoing effort to spur investment and job creation using natural resources throughout Washington. Past RCPI projects include the retrofitting and reopening of a lumber mill in Raymond, the construction of a derelict boat recycling facility in Ilwaco, and a partnership with the Kalama School District to help students manage a 32-acre forest adjacent to the district's Middle-High School.

The “A Team:” Lyle School Offers Free After-School Tutoring

In the midst of multiple snow days in February, Lyle Schools fired up the “A Team,” a free after-school tutoring program.

In many school districts, parents have to pay to have access to tutoring for their children. Thanks to a Title I state grant, Lyle Schools is able to offer tutoring to students in grades six-12 for free, twice a week.

The A-Team Program is for students who need a little extra support in understanding a concept, or who need time to prepare for high-stakes exams required for graduation. It's also for those who simply need a quiet and supportive place to focus on their learning.

Because this grant is specifically for ELA and math, tutors will focus their efforts on those subjects, but if students have questions about other subjects, they are welcome to ask. The tutors are there to help our young people expand their learning.

Students are welcome to participate every Tuesday and Thursday, or as their schedule allows. Buses will run at 5 p.m. to take our motivated learners home.

All tutors are teacher specialists at the high school. Each has a specific area of focus: John Bister will provide juniors and seniors with tutoring to prepare for the SBAC, the state testing students need to pass in order to graduate. Cody Magill will focus on English language arts for both middle and high school. Middle and high school students will get math learning support from Katie Gibson on Tuesdays and Josh Padgett on Thursdays.

Questions? Call the school office at 509-365-2211.

April 6, 2019 10:30 AM - 2:30 PM

<http://www.maryhillmuseum.org>

It's not what you look at that matters, it's what you see. Henry David Thoreau Slow Art Day is a global event with a simple mission: to help more people discover the joy of looking at and loving art. When people look slowly at a piece of art they make discoveries. The most important discovery they make is to see and experience art without an expert (or expertise). Join us at Maryhill for a slow art experience. We will begin with refreshments and a chance to meet others in the group, after which we will visit one or two works of art to see through the eyes of the artist and connect with our own spirit. Meet for refreshments and introduction in the M.J. Murdock Charitable Trust Education Center, followed by a slow art experience led by Curator of Education, Louise Palermo. The savedallesportwa team wishes to thank everyone that attended the meetings on 3/27/2019.

We can and should be very proud of our community and the level of participation that is being brought to this planning process. Thank you for remaining engaged in a process that will be very lengthy.

Every submitted "questions and concerns" sheets carries weight with the Klickitat County Planning Department and is a vital step in the planning process. If you did not hand yours in, please be advised that they must be in the Klickitat County Planning office by 5:00 PM on 4-5-2019. If you want me to deliver your "questions and concerns" sheets, please call or text me at 509-281-0535 and we can arrange for me to pick yours up and include them in the package going to the Planning office on 4-4-2019.

I am planning on delivering all the submitted "questions and concerns" sheets on 4-4-2019 around 4:00 PM., which means I leave Dallesport around 3:00 PM that day.

If you have any questions please do not hesitate to contact me. I am honored to work for all my neighbors and community. Gratefully yours, WJ Morris, Executive Director, savedallesportwa, 509-281-0535
